3COM REGIONAL CENTER, ENGLEWOOD, COLORADO

The acquisition of U.S. Robotics by 3Com Corporation generated the consolidation of staff and facilities around the country. In suburban Denver, a new corporate center was designed to provide the company with a striking new regional home. A central component of the center is a 14,000 square foot R&D lab for network systems engineers. Adjacent to the entry is a spacious public area that encompasses a reception area, conference rooms, and a demo room for showcasing products to clients.
