3COM MOBILE COMMUNICATIONS DIVISION, SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH

This new 155,00 square foot building was designed to allow the company to expand their high tech computer manufacturing functions. In addition to twelve manufacturing lines, the building houses manufacturing support offices, corporate business offices, an employee center and 200-seat cafeteria. A series of defining planes separate the various functions of the building. The planes are defined by transparent glass walls and column lines which allow multiple visual and programmatic connections.
