CONNELLY SHEEHAN MORAN LAW OFFICES, CHICAGO, ILLINOIS

The lawyers in this growing corporate practice wanted a sleek, contemporary design for their new office space that would reflect the personality of the firm: young, innovative and driven to achieve. Most of the 9,700 square feet they leased on the sixteenth floor of a downtown office building is devoted to private offices, each with an outside view. Interrupting the long narrow corridors which link the private offices and communal spaces was a design challenge. Terrazzo ellipses provide the needed visual relief.
