COOSA PINES HEALTH & FITNESS CENTER, COOSA PINES, ALABAMA

This modern healthcare and fitness center serves the employees of a Kimberly-Clark paper mill in rural Alabama in two ways. It offers free access to a large, well-equipped fitness facility and gym. It also provides a convenient, voluntary health screening and medical treatment clinic where individual exercise programs can be prescribed. The 32,000 square foot building begins in an open courtyard, the first of four squares in a line. Within this courtyard is an abstract forest of concrete and wood columns.
