MIGLIN/STAYBRIDGE SUITES, CHICAGO, ILLINOIS

This hotel is a marker on the skyline, separating Chicago's modern Financial District from Lincoln Park, a historic residential district, reveling in the messy vitality of the urban core where it meets the more restrained fabric of Lincoln Park. It is a continuing exploration of modernist forms, where the juxtaposition of huge, yet apparently weightless, masses rest on a gracefully balanced structural skeleton. The 216,000SF building of 204 hotel rooms sits atop a 180-car parking structure with ground-floor retail space.
