

HARRIS BRANCH BANK PROTOTYPE, SUBURBAN CHICAGO, ILLINOIS

HARRIS BRANCH BANK PROTOTYPE, SUBURBAN CHICAGO, ILLINOIS

Harris Bank asked Valerio Dewalt Train to design a new prototype building for their rollout of fifty branch banks in the suburbs of Chicago. This design is the first step in a rebranding process for Harris Bank. Naperville and Aurora are the first locations that will use the new design. The banks include drive-up teller and ATM areas, with tellers and offices for the bank managers and staff inside the 5,500 sf building.

