LIPSON ALPORT GLASS & ASSOCIATES HEADQUARTERS,
NORTHBROOK, ILLINOIS

Lipson Alport Glass & Associates, a marketing and branding firm, wanted to “re-package” a one-story building into their new headquarters. The existing ‘U’ shaped building added a fourth side: a masonry mass perched precariously atop the older structure. This solid mass contains conference rooms, research spaces, and other inward looking activities. A new studio, taking the form of a glass box, wedges itself under the masonry form. The existing building was renovated into studio and support space.
