

REINHARD RESIDENCE, CHICAGO, ILLINOIS

REINHARD RESIDENCE, CHICAGO, ILLINOIS

This project started with a typical Chicago townhouse built on a 20 foot wide lot with party walls on either side. Its nineteenth century stone facade was fully restored, including repair of the sandstone details, restoration of the wood windows and replacement of the glass, including two curved glass panels. The stone facade contrasts with the modern interior design. There, a glass facade, similar in height and width to the stone face, stands for a new era. Spiraling through the open space is a dramatic stair.
